Dear Friends.

Futher to E-mail 48 issued earlier this evening. I have been doing some rough calcs. on the possible new comet's present position. But an error of just one arc. sec. in dec. between the last two exps. gives a window of around almost 4 degs. With any possible errors in RA as well it would seem to be quite elusive.

As yet no ephemeris has been issued so it maybe lost forever. But if anyone attempts a photograph of the possible area I would be glad to hear from them.

Regards.

Alan Young.
